

The Karl Schlecht Stipends for the Global Network of Research Centers for Theology, Religious and Christian Studies

Call for Applications and Announcement of Winners

The 2013 stipends have been awarded to an international group of young scholars:

Ms. Wang Huiyu (Sun Yat-sen University, China)

Research Project: Michele Ruggieri's Importance as a Missionary and Sinologist

Study visit at the Gregorian University, Rome, in cooperation with Prof. Philip Renczes, S. J.

Mr. Rope Kojonen (University of Helsinki, Finland)

Research Project: Intelligent Design: A Theological and Philosophical Analysis

Study visit at GTU Berkeley, in cooperation with Prof. Robert Russell

Mr. Jason Daavid Lepojärvi (University of Helsinki, Finland/Oxford University, U. K.)

Research Project: C. S. Lewis and the Theology of Love

Study visit at Heidelberg University, in cooperation with Prof. Michael Welker

Dr. Funlola Olojede (Stellenbosch University, Republic of South Africa)

Research Project: Lady Wisdom in the Book of Proverbs: An Ethical Theological Reflection

Study visit at Princeton Theological Seminary, in cooperation with Prof. Jacqueline Lapsley

Dr. Heike Springhart (Heidelberg University, Germany)

Research Project: Dying, Death, and Finitude as Challenges for Theological Anthropology and Ethics

Study visit at the University of Chicago Divinity School, in cooperation with Prof. William Schweiker

(continued – please turn over for the Call for Applications)

Five Karl Schlecht Stipends for the Global Network of Research Centers for Theology, Religious and Christian Studies 2014

Call for Applications

In 2014, five stipends of 6,000 Euros each are available for an academic exchange within the Global Network of Research Centers for Theology, Religious and Christian Studies. Doctoral students and postdocs from institutions and schools in the Global Network are invited to apply for a stipend in order to visit another institution for one academic term, with the agreement of colleagues from both sides.

The sponsor, the Karl Schlecht Stiftung, Germany, would like to support projects with an ethical impact. This does not preclude applications from fields other than ethics.

We invite applications (in English) by e-mail (at mw@uni-hd.de) by October 31st, 2013.

For details, applicants are invited to visit the web at <http://globalnetresearch.org/>.

The application should include

1. a brief description of the project (about 5 pages);
2. a short curriculum vita (with bibliography, if applicable);
3. a substantial nomination letter by a member of the Global Network on the sending side (1–2 pages); and
4. a short note of agreement of a member of the Global Network at the institution to be visited.

A group of scholars from different fields will evaluate the applications (multiple evaluations).

Please inform your students of this opportunity.

Heidelberg, March 2013

(Research Center for Interdisciplinary and International Theology/Forschungszentrum Internationale und Interdisziplinäre Theologie, FIIT)

Michael Welker – Andreas Kruse – Peter Lampe, FIIT – March 2013